

Wendy Bachman

Piano

Wendy Bachman holds an ARCT diploma in Piano Performance and an ARCT Teacher's diploma from The Royal Conservatory of Music, a Bachelor of Music from the University of British Columbia and a Masters degree in Piano Pedagogy and Performance from Westminster Choir College (Princeton, N.J.). Her teachers and mentors include Mary Tickner, Nan Gorringer, Edward Parker, Leonard Richter, Harold Zabrack, Frances Clark and Louise Goss. Over the past 24 years, Ms. Bachman has taught in music conservatories in Princeton, Minneapolis, Vancouver, and Seattle. In 1990 she was selected to teach and perform at the National Conference of Piano Pedagogy in Chicago. Currently, Ms. Bachman teaches keyboard and theory in her private studio, as well as part-time at the Pennsylvania State University.