

Dianne Baird

Voice

Dianne Baird holds a Bachelor of Music in Voice and a Bachelor of Music Education from the Memorial University of Newfoundland, a Bachelor of Arts in English Film and Communications from McGill University and a Master in Voice Performance from the University of Ottawa. Ms. Baird has been a winner of the Medal and Award for Academic Excellence in Music Education from the Memorial University of Newfoundland. Her principal teachers include Carmen Mehta, Caroline Hart and Ingemar Korfus.

Ms. Baird has had extensive performing experience working as a soloist for numerous productions and as a member of many choirs and ensembles. She has performed on CBC Radio and on Rogers Cable Television. Ms. Baird has also taught in the public school system and has held positions as a voice professor at the Memorial University of Newfoundland and a voice teacher in Ottawa, and St. John's Newfoundland. Currently, she is voice professor at the School of Music, Queen's University, Kingston. She also belongs to the Association of Canadian Television and Radio Artists and the National Association of Teachers of Singing.