

Andrew Hisey

Piano

Andrew Hisey teaches studio and group piano, serving as associate professor of music at St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota. From 1994-2005, he was a member of the faculty at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music in Ohio and holds degrees in piano from Wilfrid Laurier University and from the University of Michigan, where he was the first to receive the Doctorate of Music Arts degree in Piano Pedagogy and Performance.

Dr. Hisey is a frequent lecturer and workshop clinician, and is an active performer. He served five summers at the Interlochen Center for the Arts in Northern Michigan, directing the All State Piano Programs. Dr. Hisey has a special love for and has performed most of the piano and chamber music of Dmitri Shostakovich. Dr. Hisey is one of the founding directors of the National Group Piano and Piano Pedagogy Forum, and serves as series editor for the Composer Editions publications from the Frederick Harris Music Company. Dr. Hisey is also editor of the new eight-volume Christopher Norton: Connections for Piano series, and co-author of the accompanying Activities for students.