

Elizabeth Morrison

Piano

Elizabeth Morrison holds an Associate and Licentiate diploma from Western Conservatory of Music, a Bachelor of Music from the University of Western Ontario, and has completed her Doctorate in musicology from McGill University. While at the University of Western Ontario she studied with Damjana Bratuz, Arthur Rowe, and Sandra Mangsen as well as Louis-Philippe Pelletier at McGill University.

Dr. Morrison is the former Associate Manager of Development at Vancouver Opera, has been on the board of directors for Early Music Vancouver, as well as co-editor of "Musick" published by Early Music Vancouver. She has taught at McGill University, Simon Fraser University and Boise State University and currently teaches piano, theory, and history privately in Houston Texas.