

Julia Pal

Speech Arts and Drama

Degrees and Studies:

Julia Pal holds an ARCT in Speech Arts and Drama from The Royal Conservatory of Music and was awarded the gold medal. After graduating from the University of Toronto where she completed a Bachelor of Landscape Architecture, she earned a Bachelor of Education in drama and visual arts from Queen's University in Kingston, Ontario. She then went on to pursue her interest in singing and graduated from the jazz program at Humber College in Toronto.

Biographical Information:

Ms. Pal has been active as a teacher and workshop leader with The Royal Conservatory of Music, Learning Through the Arts program, and with the Toronto District School Board where she conducts classes in creative drama, improvisation, scene study and speech arts. She also continues to coach privately and adjudicate for speech arts festivals across Canada.

In addition to her teaching commitments, Ms. Pal remains active as a theatre artist, storyteller and singer. As a teacher she is dedicated to helping students build self-confidence, increase their expressive skills and develop strong techniques for oral presentation through speech arts and drama activities.
