

Kelly Parkins-Lindstrom Strings

Degrees and Studies:

Kelly Parkins-Lindstrom holds an ARCT Performer's Diploma from The Royal Conservatory of Music. She has also completed Suzuki Pedagogy training in Kingston, Ontario, and Steven's Point, Wisconsin. Her principal teachers were Victor Danchenko, Eugene Kash, and David Zafer.

Biographical Information:

Ms. Parkins-Lindstrom enjoys an active life as a teacher and performer. She is a Faculty Member at The Royal Conservatory of Music in both the Conservatory School and The Glenn Gould School. She also coordinates the Junior and Intermediate Strings Programs of The Young Artists Performance Academy as well as the Orchestras Program of The Royal Conservatory of Music.

Chamber opportunities include performances for CBC Radio and Television, Canadian Stage Productions, The Shaw Music Festival and orchestral freelancing with The Hamilton Symphony, Hamilton Opera, National Ballet of Canada, and various Theatre Productions.

As a master class clinician and Member of The College of Examiners, Ms. Parkins-Lindstrom enjoys working with talent from across Canada. She adjudicates for Kiwanis Festivals, Suzuki workshops and the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association adjudications. Ms. Parkins-Lindstrom is an active member of the American Federation of Music and the Suzuki Association of the Americas.

