

Christine Turgeon

Piano Theory

Christine Turgeon holds ARCT Teacher's and Piano Performance diplomas from The Royal Conservatory of Music and a Bachelor of Science from the University of Toronto. She has studied with well-known teachers such as G. Seim, George Mcelroy, and Boris Berlin. Ms. Turgeon has taught at the Royal Conservatory of Music, Scarborough Branch, and was former co-director and past president of the Toronto Associated Conservatory of Music. She has been a member of The Royal Conservatory of Music Alumni Committee and a former member of the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association.

At the present time, Ms. Turgeon runs a busy private music studio in Scarborough and teaches at Euromusic Centre in Markham. Ms. Turgeon works with students at all levels but especially enjoys teaching young beginners and students with special needs. She is also kept busy accompanying for choirs and lending musical help in a variety of ways in the schools her children attend.